

THE BLACKWHITECOLORFUL

BIOGRAPHY

We are navigators, traveling through the darkest night, diving into the deepest oceans. What binds us is unity, what drives us is urgency and this time we seek clarity. THE BLACKWHITECOLORFUL describe this quest from departure to arrival, from beginning to end, from our homes to the farthest outposts. It's an introspective gaze using outward-looking tools. With the aid of alternative rock with borrowings from post-rock and post-hardcore, the quartet consisting of Sascha [voc/git], Jonas [b], Michael [git] and Lukas [dr], set out to write this itinerary. Through still and storm, we navigate.

*«Let each new temple, nobler than the last,
Shut thee from heaven with a dome more vast,
Till thou at length art free,
Leaving thine outgrown shell by life's unresting sea!»*

– Oliver Wendell Holmes: The Chambered Nautilus (1858)

»Imagine a tad Linkin Park, early Evanescence, a dash of metal and a proper amount of hardcore. Then you might get the vivid sound the band delivers on its debut EP. That lunacy is a common thread throughout the six tracks, which hardly can be surpassed in terms of ingenuity and quality. Bottom line: a steam roller which will knock your socks off.«

»the blackwhitecolorful - the band of the hour about to go into auspiciously unknown. [...] Cheerfully hearted into the epicenter of a storm front, masses of clouds pouring out endorphins. [...] Synapses dancing polka in the synchronicity of exaltation and down-to-earthiness!«
